Glory Hallelujah.

The following is the text of the war song, which is just now the most popular song in America. Its popularity is owing to the stirring music to which it is set, and which is said to electrify all who hear it. Imagine it being sung by 5,000 soldiers marching through Broadway, New York, or by Gen. Wool's army when marching into Norfolk. The song was originally composed in Elsworth's memory, and read "Elsworth's battle hymn" at his funeral.

"The allusion to the 'pet lambs' in the 4th verse is also to Elsworth's Zouaves."

John Brown's body lies a-mouldering in the grave,
His soul's marching on!

Chorus.

Glory, Glory, Hallelujah! Glory, Glory, Hallelujah!
Jeh! Glory, Glory, Hallelujah!

His soul's marching on!

He's gone to be a soldier in the army of the Lord,
He's gone to be a soldier in the army of the Lord,
He's gone to be a soldier in the army of the Lord,
He's soul's marching on!

Chorus.

Glory, Glory, Hallelujah! Glory, Glory, Hallelujah!
Jeh! Glory, Glory, Hallelujah!

His soul's marching on!

John Brown's knapsack is strapped upon his back,
His soul's marching on!

Chorus.

Glory, Glory, Hallelujah! Glory, Glory, Hallelujah!
Jeh! Glory, Glory, Hallelujah!

His soul's marching on!

His pet lambs will meet him on the way,
His pet lambs will meet him on the way,
His pet lambs will meet him on the way—
They're marching on!

Chorus.

Glory, Glory, Hallelujah! Glory, Glory, Hallelujah!
Jeh! Glory, Glory, Hallelujah!

As they march along!

Now, three rousing cheers for the Union!
Now, three rousing cheers for the Union!
Now, three rousing cheers for the Union!

We are marching on!

Chorus.

Glory, Glory, Hallelujah! Glory, Glory, Hallelujah!
Jeh! Glory, Glory, Hallelujah!

Hip, Hip, Hip, Hurrah!

VARIETY.

By checking the flight of expectation, we cheat disappointment of its pain.

We embark in the cradle for a long voyage in the coffin for a far longer one.

If you would become a great conqueror, begin with victories over yourself.

The firmest friendships are formed in adversity, just as iron is welded in the fiercest flames.

Sweetening one's coffee is generally the first stirring event of the day.

Cast away the staff of duty, and, like the prophet's wail, it changes to a snake.

The solar system has a large family, but only one sun.

Why is a field of grass like a person older than yourself? Because it is past its prime.

Who is the largest man? The lover; he is a fellow of tremendous size.

PRENTICE ON Successor, &c.—A Georgia paper says that southern soldiers can always stand fire. No doubt of that, and the secession leaders, most undeniably can stand fire—and steel.

It is said that the South Carolina soldiers don't get enough to eat. They don't much like warfare. Can't they cook their palmettos and rattle snakes?

Secessionism in Virginia seems now to be in the charge of the light-headed Wise and the light-fingered Floyd.

You're bound to be a mean man, but it wouldn't be easy to count him out.

Mr. Spratt of Charleston, says that the southern confederacy will never acquire its true position until by importations from Africa, the number of slaves shall be at least equal to the number of whites. He insists that every white man, woman, and child, shall have his, her, and its nigger.

A contemporary says, "the southern republic finds itself between the devil and the deep sea." Yes, and full of the one, it will run "violently down a steep place" into the other.

The southern government, it is said, intends flying its "Klux" to foreign countries.

Good luck—Some men talk about luck. Good luck is to get up at six o'clock in the morning, good luck, if you had only a shilling a week, is to live upon eleven pence and save a penny; good luck is to trouble your head with your own business, and let your neighbor's alone; go unto other people as we wish them to do unto us. They must not only plot, but persevere. Perseverance may take care of because they are the seeds of guineas. To get on in the world, they must take care of home, sweep their own doorways clean, try and help other people, avoid temptations, and have faith in truth and God.

He was reading the evening paper, when he suddenly exclaimed, "Did you ever?" and read as follows: "The specie police arrested a young man yesterday for walking in the garden of a public garden." Mrs. Huntington looked, "Well, it does magnify much where some people board, but I suppose all the hotels must be full to depletion if they've got to taking boarders in such exposed situations. Mr. Galvin, no doubt, makes good beds for them in his observatory. But what did they do with the culprit?" "It don't say," replied Ike, "but I guess they made him take an oath not to do it again, and let him go." He raised the paper before his face, and chuckled, as he mentally exclaimed, "Big thing on the old lady!"
